

Mawuli Mel Davis

Mawuli Mel Davis is a founding partner of The Davis Bozeman Law Firm, P.C. and leads the firm's Criminal Defense and Trial sections. Attorney Davis' practice includes representation of persons charged with crimes throughout Georgia. Attorney Davis' in-court experience allows him to lead the firm's Trial Section, which includes civil trials. Attorney Davis' law partner and friend, Robert O. Bozeman, formerly of King & Spalding, heads the firm's Civil Litigation section which focuses on representing people seriously or fatally injured in car, truck, and motorcycle accidents, and civil rights cases. Attorney Davis has been dubbed as "The Liberation Lawyer" because of his reputation as an "activist attorney" willing to fight injustice. Attorney Davis was named a 2012 "Rising Star" in the Georgia "Super Lawyer Magazine". He was also recently named the Civil Rights of Attorney of the Year by the Gate City Bar Association. He is regularly seen on television and heard on the radio handling cases and championing causes that protect people's legal rights. Attorney Davis has been involved in the representation of public figures, entertainers, and athletes, including being a member of the appeals team for former Mayor of Atlanta, Bill Campbell. In 2007, Attorney Davis was selected as one of just 15 lawyers "On the Rise" in Georgia for his innovative and "holistic" approach to representing young people charged with crimes. He has been featured in various newspapers for his outstanding work in court and in the community.

Attorney Davis was selected to chair a training seminar for criminal defense lawyers across Georgia by the Georgia Association of the Criminal Defense Lawyers (GACDL). He is currently a Regional Vice President for GACDL and a Board Member of the Dekalb Lawyer's Association. Attorney Davis is a graduate of Georgia State University (GSU) College of Law where he was recognized in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Attorney Davis attended the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis where he played varsity basketball and earned a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science. Attorney Davis earned a Masters in Public Administration from Bowie State University while on active duty in Rota, Spain.

Attorney Davis received the Navy's NAACP Roy Wilkins Meritorious Service Award and the GSU Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Torch of Peace Award. Attorney Davis' organizing efforts have ranged from working with gang members in Chicago to establish a summer basketball league, to participating in the United Nations World Conference Against Racism in Durban, South Africa. Attorney Davis developed and spearheaded "If you can see it, you can be it" School Project and the "Consequences of Thug Life" multimedia presentation. Attorney Davis is a proud and active member of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Incorporated. He is a deacon at Sankofa United Church of Christ and is married with two sons.

If you are interested in contacting Attorney Davis for a speaking engagement, training, consulting or legal services he can be reached at (404) 244-2004 or mdavis@mawulidavis.com.